David Sullivan

Complex Building Group

Corryong Estate

To Whom it may concern,

As the Architect of Corryong Estate Main Ridge we had the great pleasure of working with Complex Building Group.

David and his team went above and beyond through all facets of the job. From the initial tender period all the way up to and after completion.

Without having the luxury of being able to attend site on a regular basis due to the secluded nature of the site, David and his team took the stress out of a project that could have been very onerous.

David always came to any issues we encountered with a solution rather than the problem, a quality that made the building process pain free.

The level of detail required was executed perfectly with the minimal of fuss.

Throughout the project we found them to be very professional, thorough and look forward to working with them again.

We have absolutely no hesitation in recommending them future works.
